

The practical and relevant nature of Dr. Margie Carter's professional development workshops are always greatly appreciated and sort after by early years teachers. Guided through a balanced process of professional dialogue, input and personal reflection, teachers walk away from Margie's professional learning sessions enthused and informed about how they can tackle the challenges and demands of classroom life. Margie's professional consultancy, advice, workshops and resources are always extremely popular and well received.

Margie is always practical and contemporary. Margie is well respected, esteemed and valued within the education field.
